ROOSEVELT SAYS BORDER PEACE MUST CONTINUE

PUBLIC BODIES SEEK TO END RELIEF STRIKE

Organizations in Vancouver Offer to Act as Mediators Between Men Who Left Camps and Authorities

Must Be Works, Declares Premier

Vancouver, April 30.—Various public bodies here are offering their services as mediators between the relief camp strikers and the authorities for the purpose of settling the strike and finding some solution for relief camp difficulties. The Ministerial Association of Vancouver has offered its services in this role.

STRIKERS' ARGUMENT
A spokesman for the strikers to day said: "The strikers are demanding relief pending the opening of negotiations between the provincial governments and have no intention of returning to the camps in the meantime."

Arthur Evans, connected with the strikers, stated the action committee had decided "a general strike appears to be the only effective way to bring the matter to a head and force the federal, provincial, and municipal governments to take some action in negotiating with the relief camp strikers."

CANADIAN PRESS
Vancouver, April 30.—French declarations and protest were before the strikers yesterday pointing to serious difficulties in the negotiations.

Premier T. D. Pattullo in Victoria declared Vancouver was aware that "British Columbia is something with the Canadian government." "Money to do work will have to be provided," he said. Two of his ministers were discussing the matter with the Dominion Government in Ottawa. In the meantime the men should go back to the camps until the matter is settled.

In any case law and order would be maintained. Delegates from areas adjacent to Victoria became abusive yesterday, he said, and were escorted out of his office.

CONFERENCE SUGGESTED

Major G. G. McGeer of Vancouver wired Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn of Ontario, suggesting the latter call a conference of premiers to which mayors would be invited, for the purpose of discussing relief and other problems.

"The relief situation is a disgrace, but we can't condone rioting and sedition conditions," said the mayor in a statement. He also gave assurance there would be no general strike.

In a wire to Acting Prime Minister Sir George Perley at Ottawa, the mayor said: "Confidential inaction on the part of your government is de-

PREMIERS TALK IN LONDON

London, April 30.—Prime Minister R. B. Bennett and other Dominion premiers in London for the King's Jubilee, met Prime Minister MacDonald and other British cabinet members in the Commons this afternoon.

The discussions were purely informal and preliminary. They did not concern questions of policy.

Border Ban For Marchers

Police Head at Corbin, B.C., Says Demonstrators to Stay in Alberta

Canadian Press
Lethbridge, Alta., April 30.—With May Day, international workers' holiday, only hours away, police of Alberta and British Columbia stood ready to-day to handle any emergency in the Crow's Nest Pass strike front, centring on Corbin, B.C.

More than 100 British Columbia Mounties and British Columbia provincial constables were massed in the Corbin area to-day as reports were heard that 8,000 miners from British Columbia and Alberta mining camps planned a May Day march.

Blairmore, Alta., Communists' centre, and but twenty-five miles from Corbin, had a police and police meeting two weeks ago, following an announcement that the destination was the rallying point for Alberta miners.

TO STOP AT BORDER

Both Corbin and Blairmore were quiet to-day and a police line guarded the Alberta-British Columbia border with orders to stop any attempt of strikers' sympathizers to cross the boundary into the strike camp.

The Corbin area is to be the marching point on Corbin as not arrived yet," said Inspector J. Macdonald (Turn to Page 2, Col. 4)

Woodsworth Urges Relief Steps In B.C.

Canadian Press
Ottawa, April 30.—A serious view of the relief camp strike situation at Vancouver is taken by B. Woods Worth, president of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation and member of parliament for Winnipeg North. Mr. Woodsworth said to-day he had had word from Vancouver indicating a dangerous condition.

"It has got to the point where we can not safely stand on constitutional niceties, but have got to take definite action," said Mr. Woods-worth.

Trustee Takes Over Control

Pitt Meadows School Board Replaced Due to Lack of Co-operation

Canadian Press
Pitt Meadows, B.C., April 30.—Official notice of the disbanding of the Pitt Meadows School Board has been given to Municipal Clerk W. McDonald by the British Columbia Department of Education.

Secretary F. V. Harris has been appointed sole official trustee, replacing Roy Macdonald, E. H. Sharpe and L. L. Howe, the dismissed officials.

No reason for this action has been given.

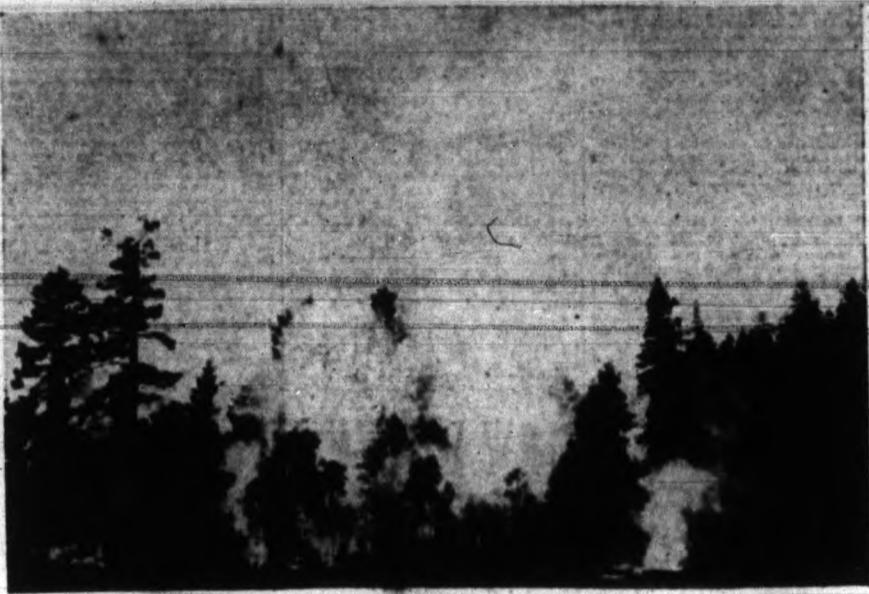

The Department of Education explained this morning that for some time there had been lack of co-operation between the Pitt Meadows and the teaching staff at Pitt Meadows, detrimental to the efficiency of the school. In replacing the board with a trustee the department acted upon the recommendation of the district inspector.

FIRST FOREST FIRE OF THE SEASON

In the above photograph, is shown the first forest fire reported this season on southern Vancouver Island. It occurred about a mile north of Langford Lake Sunday afternoon and covered about an acre. At the time the picture was taken, the flames were sweeping through the underbrush and several tall trees in the vicinity. They were alive. The heat on the road was almost unbearable and cars had to turn back until the fire abated.

With Submarine Issue at Acute Stage, London Will Not Send Spokesman to Berlin Till Hitler Makes Statement on Construction May 15

By GEORGE HAMILTON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

London, April 30.—Germany is preparing to launch her naval programme. Information reaches authoritative quarters here that submarines are only part of a wider construction scheme which Hitler will announce May 15.

Germany's decision to build submarine in defiance of the Versailles Treaty, it is further learned, does not arise from the tense situation of the last few weeks. Designs were prepared in December and some parts were actually constructed about Christmas.

Meanwhile the proposed Anglo-German naval talks will be postponed.

Whether or not they will be held at all remains for determination.

If the British government decides to hold the talks Hitler's personal emissary, Joachim von Ribbentrop, will come to London.

FRENCH VIEWS REARDED

During the day Francis Pietri,

French naval minister, conferred at length with Sir Bolton Eyes-Monsell, First Lord of the Admiralty. It was reported, they discussed submarine construction by Germany.

FRANCE RECRUITS HER AIR FORCE

Paris, April 30.—France, with an eye on Germany's rearmament in the air, to-day sought to keep her own air force at full strength by calling for the recruiting of trained aviation machine gunners, radio operators and mechanics to fill vacancies at the Dugay military base attached to famous La Bourget Field.

At the same time France moved for aviation alliances with other nations and toward the completion of the Franco-Russian mutual assistance agreement.

The French cabinet approved counter-proposals for the Franco-Russian treaty which are to be submitted to Soviet Russia in final negotiations.

U.S. Mails Barred To Big Lotteries

Associated Press

Washington, April 30.—The largest fraud order in the history of the Post Office Department was issued to-day when a ban against using the United States mail was placed on all persons.

Firms connected with the operation of lotteries and sweepstakes in foreign countries.

The order includes the names of 266 Canadians, twenty-seven in Havana, Cuba, and twenty-seven in the Irish Free State.

Of the Canadians, 266 are located in Montreal, 26 in the west.

New Deal For Britain Debated

Canadian Press

London, May 30.—St. Hon. David Lloyd George, wartime Premier of Great Britain, and now an exponent of "new deal" proposals, had a session to-day with a cabinet sub-committee.

The session includes the names of 266 Canadians, twenty-seven in Havana, Cuba, and twenty-seven in the Irish Free State.

Of the Canadians, 266 are located in Montreal, 26 in the west.

CAPT. HENRY WILKINS

Toronto, April 30.—Sir Hubert Wilkins, famous Australian explorer, here on his way to Winnipeg, said in an interview to-day he intends to establish a submarine station of the Polar Aeroplane Company, an airline from the Arctic and one of the key spots in the world's meteorological map.

After some twenty-seven stations in the Arctic and twelve in the Antarctic have been established, the meteorological map will be complete enough to forecast the climate of the seasons with a degree of accuracy hitherto unknown, Sir Hubert believes.

AUTO BODY PLANT CLOSES

At Cleveland, 0, 9,000 Lose Work; Others Strike at Cincinnati

Associated Press

Cleveland, O., April 30.—Officials of the Fisher Body Company decided to-day to close its Cleveland plant at midnight for an indefinite period as a result of an interrupted production schedule of Chevrolet automobiles, caused by the strike of union workers at the Chevrolet Motor Company's branch factory in Toledo.

Announcement of the shutdown order was made by Lincoln Schafe, general manager of the local Fisher body factory.

The factory makes bodies for Chevrolet and some other General Motors Corporation cars.

The Cleveland factory has been employing about 9,000 workers, Schafe said.

"This is not a lockout," he explained. "There is no labor trouble. We are telling our employees not to return to work after to-day because we are forced to do so by the Toledo situation."

STRIKES SPREAD

Cincinnati, April 30.—Strikes among employees of General Motors spread to Cincinnati to-day with a walkout of workers of the Chevrolet Motor Company and Fisher Body Company plants in suburban Newberg.

Workers began leaving the plant after conclusion of the United Auto Workers' strike at the Fisher Body Company's plant of the adjoining plant of the Fisher Body Company.

REAFFIRMS FRIENDSHIP OF U.S. AND CANADA

Associated Press

Washington, April 30.—In a sharply-worded message, President Roosevelt to-day ordered the United States House of Representatives military committee to discontinue publication of testimony it is taking in a study of the War Department.

The present, in the unprecedented session, warned the committee not to exercise his authority as commander-in-chief of the army and navy if necessary to stop publication of anything he regarded as unfriendly to other nations.

M. Roosevelt called attention to statements made by two army officers before the committee concerning the relations between the United States and neighbors on the North American continent.

NOT HIS POLICY

"I desire," he said, "to inform the committee that certain statements of the Canadian government, especially those relating to the Canadian border, do not represent either the policy of this administration or that of the commander-in-chief."

In the statement, General F. M. Andrews, major portions of said statement, especially those relating to the territories of friendly nations in Canada, in the Atlantic and in the West Indies, do not represent the policy of the administration or of the commander-in-chief.

"It is necessary for me most respectfully to call to your attention and that of your committee the fact that if the testimony in executive session is printed in public documents in the same way as testimony in open session I shall find it necessary to demonstrate not merely the abiding unity of all dominions and their common allegiance to the crown, but the personal devotion which makes that allegiance deep-living reality in all parts of the Empire," it says.

Canada yesterday asked the State Department to withdraw its plans of the coming election.

"The struggle is a world-wide one, and the Canadian government, who claimed with police force to be greater because his crusade for economic social reconstruction is disliked very heartily by a large influential section of his own country."

DESCRIBES STRANGERS

He declared Wood spoke glibly of "foreign workers" when giving evidence on his own behalf, but, judging from his police record, the convicted man and work were strangers.

Arthur R. Scott, who gave his age as nineteen, but who was believed to be younger, was remanded until Wednesday, while others were released on bail.

Mr. Erskine described his relatives, reported to be in Saskatchewan. Scott was charged with assaulting an officer.

"A relief camp is not the place for a boy of this age," commented the magistrate.

WIDE PLANS FOR AUTO INQUIRY

Canadian Press

Windsor, Ont., April 30.—It will be six months before the report of the Tariff Board on the automotive industry in Canada is ready, Hon. George H. Scidgewick, chairman, said in an interview to-day.

Mr. Scidgewick and the two other members of the board, M. B. Campbell and Charles P. Hobart, were in Windsor at the request of Hon. E. N. Rhodes, Minister of Finance, to inquire into motor car manufacturing.

They expect to make a report to the government in June, and to submit recommendations to the Tariff Board.

BULLETS KILL ONE; WOUND FIVE

Associated Press

Toronto, April 30.—A feud between rival film station operators was ended yesterday by the fatal shooting of one man and the wounding of five other persons.

Three loads of buckshot were fired into a group gathered yesterday evening at a station operated by H. M. Ferguson, four miles east of here. A short time after the shooting, Mr. Ferguson, operator of the station across the highway, surrendered.

"I should be very glad to put in the Mill the Great Lakes area," Gen. Kilbourne told a secret meeting of the House military committee last week. "I could not put it in the bill because of the fact that it is now being considered. It is called 'intermediate' station for transcontinental flights, but it means the same thing."

While the statement was made last week, it was not until yesterday it was made public.

The bill has not yet come before the House. Details of its proposed route in the other air routes in the United States.

ONTARIO AREA

Gen. Gen. J. M. Andrews, head of the Canadian headquarters air force, told the committee it was not believed Canada would join a coalition hostile to the United States unless forced to.

"But if we were part of such a coalition," he added, "in the air force operations from a base in the Great Lakes area, we would be demonstrating the industrial heart of Canada, the Ontario peninsula, and prevent establishment of enemy bases in that area for operation against this particularly vital area (northeastern United States)."

President Roosevelt addressed his chief letter to Chairman McIlvain of the military committee.

LETTERS TO SECRETARY

In another letter to Secretary of War George Dorn, the President wrote:

"It is a matter of regret to me that I have been compelled to send a letter to Chairman McIlvain of the military affairs committee, a copy of which I enclose."

The test of the President's letter to McIlvain follows:

"My attention has been called to 'Meetings before Committee on Military Affairs, House of Representatives, on H.R. 6681 and H.R. 4180.' This public document includes apparently a full report of an executive session of the committee of which you are chairman.

NEEDS HIS APPROVAL

"It is necessary for me most respectfully to call to your attention that if the testimony in executive session is printed in public documents in the same way as testimony in open session, I shall find it necessary, as commander-in-chief of the army and navy, to require that in the executive session it may be given under oath as required by law."

Referring to page 16 of this printed document, I desire to inform your committee that certain portions of the testimony of General Kilbourne, especially those relating to the Canadian border, do not represent either the policy of this administration or that of the commander-in-chief.

"In the statement of General F. M. Andrews, many portions of said statement, especially those relating to the territory of friendly nations, in Canada in the Atlantic, and in the West Indies, do not represent the policy of the administration or of the commander-in-chief.

ALWAYS FRIENDLY

"I can go further and state that they do not reflect the views purposes or motives of this Government. This Government does not in any of its plans or policies envisage a possibility of a change in the friendly relationship between the United States and any foreign country."

"I call your special attention to the fact that this government does not only accept an accomplished fact but attempts to meet conditions experienced by many generations of friendship between the Canadian and American people, but expects to live up to not only the letter but the spirit of our treaties relating to the permanent disarmament of our 3,000 miles of common boundary."

"Very sincerely yours,"

"Franklin D. Roosevelt."

The publication of the committee report yesterday came just when spokesmen for Canada and the United States were joining in an event in Washington celebrating the 118th anniversary of the Rush-Bagot treaty, by which the two countries in the two nations on the Great Lakes were strictly limited. Speakers dwelt on the success of the two nations in keeping the long border from the Atlantic to the Pacific unfortified.

President Roosevelt's action in writing to the House Committee on the Wilson air bill, was believed unprecedented.

Mr. Martin was in New York today participating in services commemorating the inauguration of George Washington.

PRINTERS' FAIRY

A committee clerk said the fault was not McIlvain's, but the public printer's. It is customary, he asserted, for the public printer to omit from printed hearings testimony given in secret session.

In this case, he added, the printer merely captioned all the hearings "secret session," and did not include all testimony of the witnesses.

A representative of the War Department, who was in the committee room this morning, asserted the army had no objection.

officers had not had an opportunity to correct their testimony before it was printed. If they had, he added, they probably would have deleted the objectionable sections.

CALLED ERROR

One congressman, Representative Maury Maverick, Democrat, Texan, told the President's letter into the envelope, "I am sorry to say, Sir, and returned to tell this to waiting newspapermen:

"I don't think the committee ought to be criticized. It was probably just an error."

"The main thing is that these generals and admirals are always shooting off at the mouth, saying they know a lot of things and trying to impress you with their knowledge. They ought to keep quiet on questions of national policy."

"What the general told us might not represent the administration's policy. I still believe it represents the War Department's policy. It certainly was not the policy of the committee."

"In a few words McIlvain ought not to be criticized for what a general said."

"The admirals are worse than the generals. They are running all over the world with their battleships and doing and saying things they ought not to say."

"There are a bunch of admirals who ought to be court-martialed for their continual war talk."

"The most dangerous thing these days is these admirals meeting around with things the Secretary of State ought to do."

Canadian Press

Ottawa, April 29.—Government officials here would not comment to-day on President Roosevelt's message ordering the United States house committee to submit testimony relating to air defenses and the War Department.

The message, however, will have no bearing on Canada's official request for additional documents relating to United States army planes.

The President's message was interpreted here as an attempt to discipline the committee for an indiscretion that affected the internal affairs of the United States and not Canada.

dishes around and smashed windows. Others damaged machinery and equipment in the tailor shop and other parts of the penitentiary before the rioting began. The rioting started order of the warden.

Witnesses believed that in a term of two years, with ten men, the attempt made growing out of robbery with violence, and John Ericsson, a fugitive from a Florida chain gang, serving a five-year term with ten lashes for bank robbery. He was the leader of the riot. Bullets from Dryden's rifle dropped from Portage and Ericsson.

Ericsson, alias Judy Jordan, was convicted July 5, 1934, in Winnipeg city police court of holding up the Portage and Arlington Street branch of the Royal Bank of Canada, June 22, 1934. He was arrested leaving Winnipeg for Vancouver and identified as a fugitive from a Florida chain gang. He is to be returned to the United States to continue a sentence of life imprisonment for slaying a filling station attendant during a holdup.

ON WAY TO SHOPS

Dryden, chief witness at the inquiry, said he was taking the blackguard gang to the shops outside the main gate when the trouble flared up.

In the prison yard he caught the warden from Deputy Warden Abbott, and took it as a signal to get up on the north wall. Then he climbed up the wall to the roof, where he obtained the guard's rifle, which was loaded with five rounds. He stretched out on the wall so he could aim carefully.

Warden G. W. MacLeod and the deputy warden tried to persuade the men to return to their cells. "Line up, it's your last chance," he said to them. Warden Abbott warned the convicts to desist. He fired at the convicts and saying something about what "they do in the States." The convicts refused to obey orders. Yapping of the convicts continued.

FIRED TO CRIPPLE

Dryden fired his first shot to cripple a convict taking a knife from the arm projecting from the kitchen window. The bullet ricocheted from a wall and wounded Ericsson in the leg. Watching the whole scene, Dryden, a convict, was hit in the left knee with a bullet. He fired at the convicts again, but the bullet entered his groin. Ericsson, the convict, died an hour later. Gas bombs were hurled at Dryden just after the shooting.

"I shot because I felt the guard's life was in danger," said Dryden. "I remembered he was a married man with family. Questioned by Captain A. N. McLeod, he was satisfied. Dryden was attempting the life of the guard. Dryden said he believed he was satisfied. "If those knives had not been handed out of the window, I would not have done any shooting."

Dryden was removed from the courtroom taking a knife from the kitchen window. The bullet ricocheted from a wall and wounded Ericsson in the leg. Mayor Expects More Prompt Payment at 37.88 Mills.

Canadian Press

Vancouver, April 30.—The City Council yesterday voted to reduce Vancouver's 1935 tax rate by two mills, bringing the levy down from 39.8 mills to 37.88 mills.

The reduction came in a resolution by Alderman W. W. Smith at the request of Mayor G. O. McGeer, who said he expected the city would benefit through more prompt payment by taxpayers under the reduction.

Alderman A. G. Harvey opposed the reduction, declaring it would make little difference to the small taxpayers, but would make considerable to the large property owners.

NO COMMUTATION

Ottawa, April 30 (Canadian Press)—A report adverse to commutation was made by the Cabinet which reviewed the death sentence passed against Edward W. Moorehouse, a Ontario, Cal., fruit farmer, who was convicted for the murder of his mother. The case was reviewed by the governor-in-council some time ago and decision was made public yesterday that there would be no interference with execution of the sentence. Verdict is scheduled to be handed May 2.

Canadian Government Decides on Details of Negotiations With U.S.

Canadian Press

Ottawa, April 30.—Canada's stand on the reciprocal trade negotiations which the United States government announced some time ago would be initiated after hearings had been completed in Washington, were officially decided to-day according to the latest information available here. The nature of Canada's basis for discussion has not been made public, nor are any developments expected for a matter of weeks, it was learned.

Hon. W. D. Herdige, Canadian Minister to the United States, was in Ottawa for a week and left yesterday to return to the United States capital. He was in frequent consultation with Trade and Manufacture officials and government tariff experts. No official comment could be obtained on the question.

SALT SPRING ISLAND

Ganges, April 30.—"Fairness," home of Mrs. Edward Walter, was the scene of a happy gathering Friday afternoon, when members of the Salt Spring Island branch of the Royal Canadian auxiliary met for the purpose of presenting their president, Mrs. H. Moorhouse, with a life membership badge and certificate. Rev. C. R. Popham, in making the presentation on behalf of the members, paid glowing tribute to the work of Mrs. Moorhouse.

The certificate, beautifully embossed, was inscribed as follows: "In recognition of her faithful work and as a token of affection from the members of the Salt Spring Island branch of the R.C.A.F. Easter, 1935." Mrs. Moorhouse briefly expressed her thanks. Tea was served by Mrs. F. Stacy and Mrs. Seymour, and a social hour was enjoyed.

Lord Hyde's Death Widely Regretted

Canadian Press

Kimberley, South Africa, April 29.—Lord Hyde, eldest son of the Earl and Countess of Clarendon, came to his death following the accidental discharge of his gun while following a springbok, the inquest yesterday heard.

The King cabled the Governor-General at Capetown, expressing the shock felt by the Queen and himself and sympathizing with Lady Clarendon and Lady Hyde.

Other expressions of sympathy came from all over the world, including the Earl of Athlone, Prime Minister Ramsey MacDonald, Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas, Secretary for the Dominions and Lord Willingdon in India.

The Senate and Assembly unanimously decided to present a joint address of sympathy to the Governor-General and Lady Hyde and suspended the sitting.

London, April 30.—Mail for Great Britain is going to be cheaper.

Announcing changes in postal charges in celebration of the King's Silver Jubilee, the Postmaster-General introduced on an Imperial postage rate card for July 15 instead of the present three ha'penny rate; the cutting in half of telephone rates between Great Britain, the dominions and India between June 6 and June 30; substantial reductions on inland telegrams and parcel post and the equipment of more than 1,000 village post offices with telephones by the end of 1935.

London, April 30.—Cecil Swanland, forty-seven, a man sentenced to seven years' penal servitude on conviction of the Croydon airport gold robbery. Two other men allegedly involved in the theft of $100,000 worth of gold bars from the strong room of the airport in March were acquitted.

Ottawa Officials Say They Were Real Rulers; U.S. Ethnologists Differ

Ottawa, April 30.—Indian chiefs who ruled their tribes were genuine, historic figures, said Canadian Indian Affairs department officials who took issue to-day with the Smithsonian Institution at Washington.

The Smithsonian yesterday took the ground there probably never was a real Indian chief in all North America from the Arctic Circle to the Rio Grande.

Joseph Brant (chief Tyendinaga), of the Iroquois, head name Brantford, Duke of York, and the Shawnee west of Detroit, said Chief Koo-Koo of the Blackfoot in the foothills of the Canadian Rockies ruled with all the powers of despot, officials maintained.

"These three chiefs, Brant in 1776 Tecumseh in 1813 and Crowfoot in 1830, by their moral leadership and authority held their people to the British cause and their position as titular heads of their tribes in recognition in history as fully as that of any rulers of primitive tribes in other parts of the world," it was added.

"True," officials remarked, "Indians did not have written laws or forms of constitution, but in their minds their chief exercised full power. In some tribes, the chief was a mere spokesman; in others, a real dictator."

U.S. ETHNOLOGISTS' RESEARCHES

Washington, April 30.—Blazing another myth due to the Canadian and United States schoolboy, the Smithsonian Institution yesterday said there probably never was a real Indian chief in all North America from the Arctic Circle to the Rio Grande.

The Indians, the Smithsonian's ethnologists have found, were anarchists, and they conferred on man the legal right to rule them as "chiefs."

Powhatan, Tecumseh, Sitting Bull and all the rest may have been "big shots" in the eyes of their fellows—and their qualities of leadership may have given them great influence—but anybody who followed the leader did so voluntarily, not because of any legal compulsion.

Even a squaw could talk back to him—if she could get away with it.

"There was nothing he could do about it other than through his own personal prowess, or the purely voluntary assistance of some of his friends," the Smithsonian said.

BRITISH PROTEST SENT TO JAPAN

Associated Press

London, April 30.—Sir John Simon, Foreign Secretary, announced in the House of Commons yesterday that a new note of protest had been dispatched by the government in connection with an alleged Japanese breach of the "open door" policy in Manchuria.

In answer to Captain Peter Macdonald, Conservative, Isle of Wight, who inquired if Britain had taken any action with other interested countries, particularly the United States, regarding the Manchurian oil monopoly, Sir John said: "We have been in touch with other governments on the matter."

The text of the British note, as revealed by the Foreign Secretary, follows:

"His Majesty's Government is unable to accept the Japanese contention that the Japanese Government is far from using its undoubted authority to insure the maintenance of assurances by themselves and by Manchurian authorities regarding the maintenance of the principle of the 'open door' in Manchuria, and has attempted to justify an action which involves a clear breach of these assurances and obligations."

"His Majesty's Government cannot but hold the responsible for the Manchurian oil monopoly responsible also for losses which it will entail for British interests."

JAPANESE EYE SIBERIAN BORDER

By GLENN BABBS, Associated Press Foreign Staff

TOKYO, April 30.—Japanese high quarters in the Japanese army gave indications yesterday that military leaders of Japan are determined the Japanese people shall continue to consider war with Soviet Russia a possibility in the coming years.

The issued a series of statements designed to prevent a softening of the martial spirit and to dispel illusions that perfect peace broods over the Manchurian border, the Chinese Eastern Railway, March 29, and Moscow's preoccupation with European war clouds.

General Jiro Minami, Japan's generalissimo ambassador to Manchukuo, said at Hsingking: "The Soviet continues steadily to augment its war equipment on the borders of Manchukuo."

The Red army in that region contains at present at least 200,000 men and more than 600 airplanes."

He said that if Russia wanted to conclude an agreement with Japan for the demilitarization of the Manchurian frontier, it must first "show its sincerity" by dismantling this war machine.

AGAIN CANADIAN CHAMPIONS

FOR THE SECOND TIME THE MONTREAL SPARTAN'S CUP, emblematic of the Canadian basketball championship, rests in Victoria. Two years ago the trophy was won by the Blue Ribbon team from the Windsor players in a series played in this city, and yesterday evening the local squad in a thrilling finish duplicated the achievement, this time against a team from Assumption College of Windsor. Thanks to the skill, stamina and teamwork of the aggregation shepherded by J. A. Barnwell, this city is now an eminent future on the Canadian basketball map. The Assumption lads put up a gallant fight throughout the series, winning one game, and in the closing part of the final struggle they made a sensational rally and gave a fine exhibition of gameness which won the unreserved admiration of the spectators; but there was no question that the championship went to the better team.

The Montreal Spartan's Cup was played for the first time ten years ago. Out of the ten annual series teams west of the Great Lakes have won the trophy nine times. The Winnipeg Tigers have held it three years, the University of British Columbia twice, the Adams of New Westminster once, the Vancouver Province once, and the Blue Ribbons twice. It is noteworthy that the championship has been captured by teams from British Columbia six times. The only eastern team to win a series has been Windsor which was successful in 1932, only to lose to the Blue Ribbons here in 1933.

The revival of basketball interest has been one of the outstanding developments in the field of sport on this continent in recent years, and in Canada the game now has a large and enthusiastic following. From the spectators' standpoint it is second only to ice-hockey as a first-class thriller, and the reaction of the large crowd to the final moments of the game yesterday evening was reminiscent of the excitement which used to be aroused by the Canadian championship hockey matches twenty years ago. There is a good reason for the belief that if the seating capacity of the building at the Willows had been as large as that of the ice hockey arena here it would have been crowded. This, of course, implies the urgent need of an adequate auditorium in Victoria in which these and other popular contests can be held.

It is unfortunate that the local basketball authorities were unable to arrange with the Canadian Radio Commission for a national broadcast of their games. The reason given by the Commission for its inability to accede to the application, which was made to it was that other programmes already had been scheduled and it was impossible to alter them. Considering the character of some of these programmes, the explanation was not at all convincing, and there is ground for the presumption that if the Commission was really interested in the proposal it could have made the necessary arrangements. There is strong suspicion that if the series had been played in Montreal, or if some prominent industrialist or politician had made an application for use of the network for the same period there would have been a nation-wide broadcast.

VANCOUVER ISLAND PROGRESS

THERE ARE MANY POINTS IN COMMON between the various communities of Vancouver Island in which it should be possible to develop unity of attitude and action. The exploitation of our scenic attractions and recreational advantages, the development of beauty spots, the improvement of parks and highways, the conservation of timber resources, are all matters of general importance.

These are not new discoveries, of course, for in one form or another they have been heard annually at the meetings of the Island Boards of Trade for many years, while representatives in the Legislature virtually every session cover the same ground in their speeches. Whatever fresh stimulus the new Tourist Trade Association of Vancouver Island can give to a practical interest in them is bound to be beneficial.

But it would be a mistake to assume that island prosperity can be effectively promoted, by tourist travel alone. As a matter of fact, industrial advance remains, and will continue to be for many years, the chief factor in our economic progress. For years the lumber, mining and fisheries industries have produced more revenue than any other similar area of this province and at one time it was the chief contributor to provincial wealth. The island's water power, its diverse natural resources, its geographical situation, particularly as it relates to the growing commerce of the Pacific, have earmarked it as a locality with a great industrial future. Already, certain localities on Central Vancouver Island, notably Comox and Alberni, are showing signs of marked economic improvement, owing to industrial development.

We must remember that sound industrial progress can not be a reasonable thing; it must be a relatively permanent and continuous process representing home dwellers and steady payrolls. One of the objectives of tourist trade campaigns should not be only the capitalization of travel for the few months of the summer season, but also the advertisement of the opportunities for settlement and capital investment offered by the island. A thousand new settlers in our fertile valleys, the re-employment in our mines of the large numbers now out of work, would be a contribution of incalculable value to island prosperity.

We therefore should encourage the development of our industries as the basis of our economic structure. It is vitally important, for example, that every effort should be made to assist the coal miners of Nanaimo by the enlargement of their markets and the utilization of coal by-products. This is so important that a royal commission is now investigating the coal-mining situation in all of its aspects. But this is not merely the government's business; it is a problem which every locality on the island can help to solve, for from its solution every community would benefit.

Likewise, every effort should be made to help the other industries, particularly to encourage our agriculturists. We, especially in Victoria, should give preferential patronage to island-grown products. Here lies the chief test of good faith in any campaign to promote island unity and prosperity. Speeches about island unity and the purchase of farm products from elsewhere, even if they are a little cheaper than the home-grown products, do not make a convincing picture. We should not forget that most of the money spent at home remains at home. We have therefore a unique combination of industrial and tourist trade possibilities which in many ways are inter-dependent. We should cultivate both.

THE WORLD'S WORST

A FEW DAYS AGO A SNEAK THIEF purloined the Victoria Cross of Thomas Holmes of Toronto and has not had the decency to return it.

The Victoria Cross is a piece of bronze worth about five cents considered at the price of metal. What on earth can anybody who did not win the trophy get out of its possession?

It is all more tragic in the case of the Toronto man because he got his "For Valor" emblem at Passchendaele when he was only seventeen.

Holmes is Canada's youngest V.C. His fellow Canadians like to feel that the stolen emblem is burning a hole in the conscience of the thief.

ABERHART OF ALBERTA

ONE OF THE MOST INTERESTING provincial general elections to be held this summer will be that in Alberta. It is especially interesting because the Douglas system of Social Credit is to have a standard-bearer and a string of candidates. It will be a sort of preliminary political center for this financial formula. Major Douglas, its author, has been engaged by the government to enlighten the people in order that they may vote intelligently. How many understand the system is a moot question.

We are told that old-time political students of Alberta's public affairs are completely baffled about the outcome of the election. A few months ago it appeared that the Liberals—with thirteen seats in the House out of a total of sixty-three—had an excellent chance of electing the most members. They considered the party victories in British Columbia, Nova Scotia, and laterly in Ontario and Saskatchewan good omens. The exit of what they termed the moribund United Farmer administration looked like a safe win for the dominant Canadian political party. Now, however, they seem to be much less sure than they were. A gentleman by the name of William Aberhart has, to quote one commentator, "set the prairie grass on fire."

The explanation of this temerity is to be found in the phenomenal growth of his own special Social Credit movement. Aberhart is the head of a group which is described as a mixture of religion and politics, of fanatical zeal and intolerance. "It is safe to say," observes one writer, "that Alberta is the only province in the Dominion, if not the only section of the empire, where such a movement could gain the tremendous hold it has over the popular imagination. It must be due to the altitude and rare air, this inclination of Albertans to swing behind new movements and ideas." Alberta was the birthplace of the One Big Union of 1919, of the Canadian Wheat Pool and of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation, but none of these excited the popular interest which has followed the Aberhart Social Credit movement in character and given it prophecy. As a prophet, however, he does not seem to have done very well. For example, he unwisely permitted himself to make prophecies in the early twenties about what would happen in the early thirties. The writer we have already quoted goes on to say:

"These include $4 wheat in 1932, and so on. His influence was waning perceptibly just about the time when Major Douglas began to attract world-wide attention to his social credit proposals. He took up social credit as part of his Sunday discourses, and relegated prophecy of a Biblical nature to obscurity. He went Major Douglas one better. Whereas Douglas has been safely vague about details of his scheme, Aberhart has been confident and emphatic. So much was this the case that when Douglas came to Alberta last year, he politely but effectively snubbed Aberhart."

Our good friends in Alberta must be chuckling over Aberhart's promise of a basic dividend of twenty-five dollars a month for every adult in the form of non-negotiable certificates as a means of increasing purchasing power, for, of course, it is only natural they should require to know from what mythical credit house this money is to come. But the promise apparently has been the lure which has attracted many to the Aberhart fold.

The hard-headed voters of Alberta, like those of other provinces, will do a little pondering when they get into the polling booths to mark their ballots. They may or may not know anything about the Douglas Social Credit system; but they will remember they are Canadians wanting something in the nature of government which is stable.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

NO YARDSTICK
The Halifax Herald

Following the death of an ex-service man in England recently, a verdict gave the case as "bronchitis due to double pneumonia, accelerated by lung injury due to being gassed during the Great War." We draw that item to the attention of the Pensions Authority in this country—because there are Canadian ex-service men who are suffering from the effects of gas and who should be receiving greater consideration. It is very difficult "attributable to" set down what ailment is and is not "attributable to war service." Manifestly, there is no medical yardstick by which some cases finally can be measured. For this reason we have in this country provisions for "burned-out" veterans; and no matter what it may cost in dollars and cents, the allowance for a war pension always should receive the benefit of the doubt.

GOPHERS A PEST
The Calgary Herald

Huge amounts are spent each year in the purchase of gopher poison. On the other hand, some of the most valuable animals which Nature has provided to maintain these and other rodents within bounds are being harried to the point of extinction in some cases. With the natural enemies of the gophers thus removed, poison means little headache in stemming the plague, besides being an ever-present menace to other forms of wild life and the cause of many tragedies to human beings. Coyotes, weasels, hawks and badgers are invaluable as gopher hunters. It is true that the presence of coyotes around a barnyard may mean the occasional disappearance of domestic fowls or even a sheep or calf or two of hunger. But with proper supervision and the protection which a good dog affords, these animals can be kept where they belong to make their mate due on gophers and field mice.

BY BRUCE HUTCHISON

GRAND OPENING

THE OTHER DAY WE OPENED OUR little cabin up by the lake after the long winter. It is a kind of rifle with us in the spring, a solemn occasion, full of memories, for some of the best parts of your life can be stored away in a little cottage by a lake.

And, whatever madness may have occurred in the world since last fall, a little cabin is always waiting there, undisturbed by the deepening crisis of humanity, a sanctuary from the excellent civilization which men have built with such heroic effort.

It is curious to see how men will labor all their lives to create their tiny cell in the structure of civilization;

how many generations have come and gone since we first came to the lake

we can't tell, for a young squirrel looks very much like his grandfather.

And, like his grandfather, he soon learns how to dash up and down the roof of the cabin, in the sure expectation that some crisis will be overcoming after breakfast.

The cabin is just as we left it last fall, the wood box full, the fire laid, the ladder crammed with canned goods. Everything else in the world has changed, everybody has grown older and sadder, but the cabin is the same. It catches life and holds it still, and if you want to see how much madness has occurred in the world beyond those hills since last fall, pick up some of the newspapers that are carefully laid aside for fire-lighting purposes. They seem to come out of another era long ago, yet they are a bare eight months old.

Canada expects an election in the fall . . . Leading bankers says 1935 will bring prosperity . . . Bennett declares he will not change his policy in the least and will resist all wild talk of economic change . . . The cabinet will ignore Mr. Stevens' pamphlet . . .
Election before Christmas certainly says King . . . Stevens resigns when Cabinet discovers he has issued a pamphlet, three months after the public discovered it . . . It will be a hard winter, says this column . . .
Talk of hard winter is nonsense, say experts . . . McGeer has no intention of running for mayor of Vancouver.

HIBERNATION

IT IS PART OF THE RITE OF SPRING
the cabin in the spring that old Joe Grinnish shall come, blinking to the door of his cottage as we write, as if he hadn't seen the sunlight since last summer. It is part of the ritual that Joe shall say that it has been the hardest winter within his recollection of forty-seven years. It has always been the hardest winter with Joe. It has been getting harder every year of the twenty in which we have been coming here; just as the world from which we retreat annually has been growing steadily more sombre.

The next part of the ritual is for Joe to ask us how things are in Victoria.
We say that things are much the same in Victoria. "Aye," says Joe.
"Victoria must be a big city now." He hasn't been down in Victoria since the fall of '96, the year Laurier was elected. (Joe has been a stout Liberal ever since.)

Well, Joe says he aims to be getting down to Victoria for a trip one of these days, though he is a little afraid of the street cars, which he has never seen. (Joe has been aiming to get down to Victoria one of these days every summer since 1896). It's a pretty wild place, he believes, from what he can read in the newspapers, but a man had ought to travel a little before he dies, and kind of see the world a bit. It is thereupon agreed that Joe will come down to Victoria this summer and with this settled
I for one find that after a week-end's peaceful rest in the lake I am exhausted for half the week afterwards;
we move on down the trail, laboring under great heavy packs.

IN THE SWAMPS

THIS IS THE SEASON when our island woods are at their best (as I seem to have said somewhere before). In the swamp, now almost clear of water, the little yellow violets are laughing at the tiny rays of sunshine that come through the thick timber, each violet with a single leaf.

Twenty-five Years Ago To-day

THE VICTORIA DAILY TIMES

April 26, 1905

(From The Times-File)
That the health of the community is endangered to a serious degree, owing to the existence of septic tanks in various parts of the city, was disclosed at a special meeting of the City Council last evening, when it was decided to refuse any further permission for the installation of these conveniences.

Every expectation was fulfilled in regard to the Native dance, held yesterday evening in the Empress Hotel. This was the nineteenth annual social event of its kind held under the auspices of Post No. 1, and it is no reflection on former dances given by the Native Sons to say this one was the most brilliant and most successful in every way.

Commander Crawford, R.N., late of H.M.S. Shearwater, left last night for England. Mrs. W. Leigh leaves to-morrow evening on a visit to England.

That the British Columbia Amateur Swimming Association should be reorganized was the subject of a great deal of discussion at the annual swimming meeting of the B.C.A.C. held in Victoria's Victoria Quarters Standard Street last evening. Last year the B.C.A.C. was affiliated with the B.C.A.U., but it has since been found out that there are not enough swimming men belonging to the latter organization to keep aquatic sports up to what they ought to be.

C.C.F. Pledged To Abolish Camps

At Protest Meeting Here
Institution of Works For Unemployed Is Urged;
Connell Describes Interview With Pattullo

Abolition of relief camps and the institution of a public works programme to provide jobs for the men was urged in a resolution passed at a meeting sponsored by the C.C.F. in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium yesterday evening and attended by over 300 people.

The meeting was called as a protest against government inaction in the camp strike.

Rev. Robert Connell, C.C.F. House leader, was the main speaker. Others were Mr. Bray, vice-president of the C.C.P. Unemployed Conference, and Fred Krauchi, organizer for the Relief Camp Workers' Union.

All those in attendance joined with the speakers in pledging themselves to continue fighting until the camps shall be abolished. Arrangements were made for women to hold a special meeting to-day and make plans for the continuation. The men proposed to meet to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in the C.C.F. headquarters.

Mr. Connell, in opening his address, detailed his recent interview with Premier Pattullo and the more important demands for the camp men. Mr. Pattullo had disclaimed responsibility, refusing to take action.

The C.C.F. leader said he thought the welfare of men in the province was a direct responsibility of the provincial government.

The only agitator, he maintained, was injustice. There was a psychological condition in the camps awaiting only a suggestion to cause it to take fire. They were a picture of demoralization. Young men were waiting their lives in camps without hope for the future.

The attitude of the marchers in Vancouver involved in last week's disturbance was certainly not that of rioters. They were bright and cheerful and he was convinced the trouble was due to the actions of police.

Mr. Connell said he thought the new U.S. stamp that is being issued in commemoration of the settlement of Connecticut in 1636 300 years ago bears a picture of the famous Charter Oak of Hartford, which played an important part in the history of that state.

When, in 1687, Governor Sir Edmund Andros tried to take away Connecticut's royal charter, which gave the colony practically independence, the colonists lit candles on the stocks where the document lay and the paper did not burn.

Educated people were calling for reforms and neither the Premier or anyone else could stand in the way of progress, he maintained.

There are more important things to Victoria than the beauties she has made. That is like finding while you are buying. The only things we have to show tourists are relief camps."

Frequent meetings of protest, voicing the feelings of the people, were necessary to wear down the government, he added.

TOO COMPLACENT

Mr. Bray declared Victoria was en route to the camp strike with too much complacency. Coming from Vancouver here was still a step from the battle front into enemy territory.

The C.C.F. he said, had aided the strike.

Strikers extensively in Vancouver. Workers were taking the leadership, organizing parades, big days and ranging for food.

BLAMES POLICE

He charged that during the disturbance last week a police sergeant had deliberately put his heel through a show case and blained the strikers.

In reading the Riot Act, Mayor McGeer had committed political suicide, he said. If any church allowed the strikers to speak from its pulpit again after that act, then that church should be excommunicated by "all decent people."

He described the great enthusiasm at the protest meeting of 15,000 people in the Vancouver arena yesterday.

Mr. Krauchi told him of the local activities of the strikers and hinted at plans for a May Day demonstration.

Y.W.C.A. LOSES ITS FOUNDER

Tribute Paid to Memory of Late Mrs. Agnes Bogart of St. John

Canadian Press

Saint John, N.B., April 26.—Sixty-five years ago Mrs. Agnes Bogart founded at Saint John the Young Women's Christian Association in Canada, and at the funeral here following her death at St. Lambert, Que., in her ninety-second year, her achievements on behalf of young women were not forgotten.

The organization here in 1870, had twenty-five members. During the next sixty-five years she saw the Y.W.C.A. grow to a Dominion-wide membership of more than 28,000. The first local newspaper record of the organization is the following extract from an issue of December 6, 1910:

"A mission school has been established by the Young Women's Christian Association for the purpose of enabling young girls who obtain their living from various factories of our city to secure a better education than they otherwise could have. Books and stationery are furnished, reading, spelling, arithmetic and grammar are taught. The number on the register is twenty-five, with an average attendance of thirteen."

Mr. E. C. Weyman, president of the Y.W.C.A. in Saint John, said in tribute:

"Mrs. Agnes Bogart, first president of the first Y.W.C.A. in Canada, was a devout Christian, with a vision and a willingness to serve vouchsafed to few. From the minute book of the Y.W.C.A. which she founded in Saint John, we learn that her motto and hers was 'The love of Christ constraineth us.' This minute book is unique record of the saving of souls, feeding the hungry, ministering to the sick, teaching the ignorant and providing homes, fuel and food for the needy. Throughout her long life Mrs. Bogart never lost this divine and compelling urge."

"At the age of ninety tasting of the last of life, for which she had made, she said in her letter to me, written but a few days before her death, 'Mrs. Peppi Macdonald, 1855 Street, Mrs. Bogart is leaving shortly for the Okanagan.'

The many friends of Mrs. J. M. Robertson will be pleased to learn that, although still a patient at St. Joseph's Hospital, she is making satisfactory progress towards recovery after a recent operation.

Ward at the piano.

The programme follows:

Do You HATE TO MEET PEOPLE?

Some of us are so bashful that whenever a new face appears before us we mentally duck away! Maybe it isn't shyness so much as simply not realizing how very interesting new acquaintances can be.

Some people are shy about new foods, too. One family we know has had pork and beans every Saturday night for ten years, and they see no reason for changing!

How much more interesting life—and dinner!—would be for that family with a new kind of meat, a vegetable prepared some other way, a new style in dessert. New foods—new faces—brighten our days and help make living an exciting game.

Look through the advertisements in this newspaper to-day for new ideas in foods. They're here, in abundance . . . recipes, tried and tested . . . favorite platters of favorite people . . . exotic dishes from exotic lands.

The advertisements bring you up-to-the-minute news of many things. Read them regularly. Form the habit of getting the most out of life—and the most for your money.

FINE EXHIBITS SEEN AT GANGES

Successful Flower and Handicraft Show Organized By Women's Institute

Ganges, April 30.—The second annual flower and handicraft exhibition organized by the Ganges Women's Institute and held in the Ganges Community Hall, April 30, was opened by brilliant weather, which brought out an unusually large crowd to inspect the fine exhibits.

Entries for the decorated tea tables were larger this year, competition running close. The prizewinner, Mrs.

G. A. Goodrich, earned the award.

An interesting feature this year was the judging of the floral exhibits and tea tables by popular vote.

The children's exhibits and handicraft sections were judged by Mrs. T. E. Van der Bent.

During the afternoon, Dick Van der Bent, bulb grower of Victoria, gave an interesting talk on the growth of advantages bulb growing on Salt Spring Island, which is said to be equally suitable. He went on to say that the bulb growing in B.C. was one of the coming industries, the bulbs produced in this country being superior to those of Holland. He stated that $2,000,000 was annually spent in Holland by buyers importing Dutch tulips into the country. By forming branches of the Bulb Growers' Association in various suitable places in the Gulf Islands and on Vancouver Island especially, enough bulbs could be produced to keep the greater part if not all, of the sum at home.

Mr. Van der Bent plans to come to the island again and deliver a lecture, when he will answer questions and possibly interview prospective bulb growers.

The prize list follows: Collection of garden flowers in bowl, Miss Hamilton; most artistically arranged bowl of flowers, Mrs. Nakamura; collection of flowering trees and shrubs (one spray each variety), Mrs. V. C. Morris; bowl of tulips, mixed varieties, Mrs. N. Wilson; six tulips, any variety, Mrs. J. C. Kingsbury; eight narcissi, any variety, Mrs. D. G. Crothen; bunch of wallflowers, Mrs. V. C. Morris; orange bouquet for lady, Mrs. J. Anderson; bowl of anemones, Mrs. A. Davis; Victorian bouquet,

POLISHED WORK IN SMART PLAY

Little Theatre Players and Producers Score in "The Play's the Thing"

A play of political trifling was the vehicle for bringing out the talents of members of the Victoria Little Theatre Association yesterday evening. It was P. G. Wodehouse's adaptation from the Hungarian, the three-act "The Play's the Thing."

Hungarians are known for doing the light comedy of manners well, and P. G. Wodehouse is rightly worshipped for his sense of humor. So when we face a combination of Hungarian and Wodehouse we have reason to expect something pretty good, which this one turned out to be.

The Little Theatre players really rose to the opportunity. Chiefly responsible was Fraser Lester in the role of Sanders Turai, a famous dramatist, who is revealed to the audience as staying with his colleague, Mansky, and Albert Adam, the young composer. In a chateau on the Riviera, also there is Hildegarde, a tempting prima donna, played by the attractive Dame Hammer-Dixon; Alandy, a leading actor, played by Albert E. Bailey. The walls are not soundproof and so the audience is let in on personal affairs of the prima donna and the actor. The play is staged by Miss Horner-Dixon and Mr. Bailey behind the scenes with their voices only coming through. Rendered distraught is the young composer, who happens to be the trusting sweetheart of the actress, and she hears all this. Sanders Turai smooths it over for the prima donna and up the idea that what was heard was merely the rehearsal of a play they were to produce. He dashes off the play, using the dialogue that had been heard, and with the help of his partner, Mansky, puts it over.

POLISHED WORK

It is difficult to be restrained in referring to Mr. Lester's brilliant work in the role of Sanders Turai. He not only has the manner and the atmosphere of the whole production, but his precise affection was a well-studied and delightful bit of work, fine down to minute details—to the way his eyes were carried across a page of his script or the way he would let his monocle fall from his eye.

Hugh W. Crumlin, playing as Mansky, was effective in presenting a blunt, outspoken, practical-minded character, that contrasted with that of the imaginative partner.

Mr. Bailey worked up to high comedy in his speeches in the last act. He won the admiration of the audience in the way in which he folded over the long names of French aristocrats and their estates.

Miss Horner-Dixon presents a magnificent figure on the stage, and was well cast in the prima donna role. Besides her dash she has ability and earnestness, but is still lacking the dash and fire and vocal modulation that will make her a real star performer.

Mr. Goward, making his first appearance, did a nicely voiced and pointed presentation of the young, drowsy, love-struck composer.

M. S. Murie played the rôle of Jeanne, the maid-servant, the butler, is a very essential part of the continuity. He did his part very steadily and with exactness, making it something very much worth while and worth doing.

C. A. Gibbard, as Moll, the Count's secretary, was funny and true in his interpretation of the fussy, excitable social side who buzzes around chateau drawing rooms.

Leslie F. Lamb directed and Arthur H. Kerr stage-managed this highly creditable as well as highly entertaining production. The and Christopher J. MacNeil, Boyd MacGill and J. Maurice Green were responsible for the properties, the stage set, design, art work and lighting, which, combined, were unusual. The scene, which is the same for the three acts, was the drawing room of the chateau, with a prospect over the gardens that slopes down to a deep blue water which stretches away, ending in the distance in a lighthouse on a point with its light that blinks throughout the night. For the furnishings of the room, there was drawn on the wealth of which the antique shop of Victoria boast. Thus it was richly endowed with Empire furniture, a magnificent gilt-framed mirror, and centre chandelier of cutlery that might have been made for a small Hall of Mirrors.

There was a full house yesterday evening to show its appreciation of the achievements of the players and those on the production end.

Uncle Wiggily's Last Shower

By HOWARD R. GARIS

When Uncle Wiggily had finished his bath in the mud, the stamp bumblebee once more in the jolly old rabbit gentleman started to hop out and look for an umbrella.

"haven't you forgotten something, my dear?" asked his rabbit lady wife with a smile.

"Oh—yes, my dear," he answered, and he hopped back and kissed her good-night.

"That was a nice thought, but I don't exactly mean that," she said. "I was thoughtful of you to remember to take your umbrella. But what I meant was that you were forgetting your umbrella."

"Well, I think that's all right," answered Mrs. Longways. "Thank you for reminding me, but I'll just have to go back for it again for a while."

BRING MAY FLOWERS

"Don't be too sure," she said. "It is still April and you know it is the month of flowers. That's why I say 'Bring May flowers.'"

"I was thinking April had passed," said Uncle Wiggily. "I was thinking April had last April."

"Mrs. Longways! To-morrow is the first day of May. But as this is still April there may be flowers now and you could have an umbrella."

"Oh, I hardly think so," spoke the rabbit lady wife. "I'll leave my umbrella home."

"I'll leave my umbrella home," I don't believe I'll get wet. If it rains I'll just have to run home."

"Oh, I think that's all right," said Mrs. Longways.

"Well, I think it is going to rain the first of May, then I can go adventuring after May flowers."

Uncle Wiggily saw some flashing light in the sky and he knew that was lightning. However, he wasn't at all worried.

"I think after all, it is going to April shower. But it won't rain for a week," said Uncle Wiggily.

Ribbons Take Series Three Games to One; Albert "Red" Martin Tops Victoria Scorers With Twelve Points

WITH SCARCELY a line of publicity that it would be played in Victoria on July 8, at this early date it seems certain that the third annual dream game between American and National League all-stars will play to the last and richest gate in the history of baseball.

More than one-third of the 79,000 seats, including all of the boxes in Cleveland's $8,000,000 lake front Municipal Stadium already have been sold. The Cleveland Baseball Company, in charge of arrangements, already has more than $30,000 in the bank.

In addition to the seating capacity, there is ample standing room for more than 30,000 in the stadium, and the Evans general manager of the Indians, is positive that the all-star's outstanding play, and the fans' enthusiasm and that the receipts will easily top $100,000.

Ribbons' second attendance now is slightly more than 80,000, and top receipts around $50,000. The Indians and the Philadelphia Athletics opened the Cleveland Stadium on July 31, 1932, before 50,000 persons, who paid about $50,000, and that attendance intake has been equaled at the Yankees' Stadium two or three years.

"The amazing thing about the sale of tickets for the big show here is that we've yet made no effort to ballyhoo it," says Evans.

"We have money orders from four corners of the country—from Peiping, Mo., to Memphis, Ore., and from St. Louis, Mich., to the saddle barns of Florida."

"This game is bringing people to baseball who probably haven't seen one in years, I was born and raised at Youngstown, and believed that I knew every game, but when I saw the Yankees' stadium two or three years ago, I knew it was the hands of the Vancouver Province."

Assumption went down to defeat after one of the greatest comebacks in the history of the cage sport in this city. On the short end of a 39 to 36 score with two and a half minutes to go the eastern champions put on a score drive that made up for the three victories to one and a half.

"As a matter of fact they came within a pass of deadlockin

the count and sending the game into overtime. With ten seconds to go "Scrubby" Aitchison, skipper of the Windsor Assumption, was wide open under the Ribbons' basket, but a bullet shot from G. W. McLean, who had driven through his fingers into the crowd, and the visitors' last chance to pull the game out of the fire faded into history. On the throw-in, from the end court, Peden lifted the ball high into the crowd, and before it could be returned to play "Torchy" Jones, the veteran of the team, will get back to the grind without much trouble. He just takes championships in his stride. Alec McKeachie will just wait for next season to roll around. The other day "Marty" walked into his office and his assistant remarked:

"Do you work here?"

Dave Michel, the coach, can keep on telling what a swell bunch of boys he has. "None of them drink or smoke," says Dave. "I never heard of a better bunch of boys." Dave had a handled plenty.

"We gave our best but it was not enough," said Father W. F. McLean, manager of the Assumption College team, summing up yesterday evening's semi-final clash. Canadian basketball hall-his with his boys, and the Blue Ribbons, Father McLean was disappointed his boys had failed to win, but he had nothing but praise for the performance turned in by the Victoria players.

It was fitting climax to one of the most keenly fought Dominion series in history. After taking the first game by a comfortable margin the Ribbons saw Windsor put on a brilliant exhibition to capture the second and engage the third. The third game was a nail-biter, and the Ribbons more than held their own in a rough and tumble affair to come out ahead and take the lead. Yesterday evening both clubs played bang-up basketball and the Ribbons managed to come out on top.

There was nothing to choose between the two sides yesterday evening. It was a sweet victory for the Victoria boys and a mighty tough game for Assumption to lose.

The final ten minutes saw as much action and excitement, dashed up for the spectators, as witnessed in all the other three previous games with the major difference being that the Ribbons held the lead from the start, were out in front 33 to 32, and as the Victoria team continued to keep in front, the team settled down with the idea the game was in the bag. But the dashling last minute drive of the easterners.

Two or more luminaries in each school who have yet to crash the all-star game bid fair to do so this trip.

National Leaguers in this class who merit the honor include Paul Dean and Billy Delaney, the young battery ever to appear in the world series, and St. Louis Cardinals' first baseman, Jimmy Collins; Hal Schumacher and Joe Moore, of the New York Giants; Curt Davis and Outfielder Johnny Moore and Ethan Allen, of the Phillies; and Louis Fier, brilliant boy shortstop of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Schumacher will make his bow, and other American Leaguers who are sure to appear as all-stars and who are sure to be strong at the ballot box include Wesley Ferrell, Hank Greenberg, Jo-White, Hal Tracy, Frank Higgins, Bill Werber, Joe Vosmik, and Roy Johnson.

The western members of the National Leagues are Frank Smith and Mickey Cochran, will command.

There will be the customary

problems such as the one Cronin,

who means the American

Leagues will fail, derive by including Paul's third base.

For instance, there is no place

for either Greenberg or Tracy

with Lou Gehrig still leading the junior wheel in practically everything but pitching effectiveness.

Now it's all over, what are we going to do at night? The town has been basketball crazy for a month. Those who have been unable to attend the games have been listening on the radio and lots of things have been neglected in this battle of the Basketball.

People who never heard of the game before have become basketball conscious. We heard of one dear old soul who asked: "Who carries the basket around?"

And how many school children have been sitting two hours past their bedtime to hear all about the Blue Ribbons battling against the boys from the west. They even asked Santa Claus for all those who could not see the games. Who carries the basketball?

Art Chapman, radio announcer did very well, although perhaps he was leaning with the Ribbons.

Yes, and the Ribbons will be able to parachute to earth, too. Art Chapman will be able to get away with carrying the press foot without seeing a shadow of Regis fitting about Chuck Chapman can test his radio tubes without trying to palm a basketball and Wallis and Port Andrews will become familiar once more with the three R's and the rest that go with basketball days. They're both good basketball players.

Bill Ross, coach of the Ribbons, has had a long holiday. He left yesterday evening to join his brother "Torchy" for a ring around the eastern hills tracks. Joe Ross can concentrate on his class of schoolboys and Ted Martin will resume contacts with prominent drivers that made him famous.

As a matter of fact they had come within a pass of deadlockin

the count and sending the game into overtime. With ten seconds to go "Scrubby" Aitchison, skipper of the Windsor Assumption, was wide open under the Ribbons' basket, but a bullet shot from G. W. McLean, who had driven through his fingers into the crowd, and the visitors' last chance to pull the game out of the fire faded into history. On the throw-in, from the end court, Peden lifted the ball high into the crowd, and before it could be returned to play "Torchy" Jones, the veteran of the team, will get back to the grind without much trouble. He just takes championships in his stride. Alec McKeachie will just wait for next season to roll around. The other day "Marty" walked into his office and his assistant remarked:

"Do you work here?"

Dave Michel, the coach, can keep on telling what a swell bunch of boys he has. "None of them drink or smoke," says Dave. "I never heard of a better bunch of boys." Dave had a handled plenty.

"We gave our best but it was not enough," said Father W. F. McLean, manager of the Assumption College team, summing up yesterday evening's semi-final clash. Canadian basketball hall-his with his boys, and the Blue Ribbons, Father McLean was disappointed his boys had failed to win, but he had nothing but praise for the performance turned in by the Victoria players.

It was fitting climax to one of the most keenly fought Dominion series in history. After taking the first game by a comfortable margin the Ribbons saw Windsor put on a brilliant exhibition to capture the second and engage the third. The third game was a nail-biter, and the Ribbons more than held their own in a rough and tumble affair to come out ahead and take the lead. Yesterday evening both clubs played bang-up basketball and the Ribbons managed to come out on top.

There was nothing to choose between the two sides yesterday evening. It was a sweet victory for the Victoria boys and a mighty tough game for Assumption to lose.

The final ten minutes saw as much action and excitement, dashed up for the spectators, as witnessed in all the other three previous games with the major difference being that the Ribbons held the lead from the start, were out in front 33 to 32, and as the Victoria team continued to keep in front, the team settled down with the idea the game was in the bag. But the dashling last minute drive of the easterners.

Two or more luminaries in each school who have yet to crash the all-star game bid fair to do so this trip.

National Leaguers in this class who merit the honor include Paul Dean and Billy Delaney, the young battery ever to appear in the world series, and St. Louis Cardinals' first baseman, Jimmy Collins; Hal Schumacher and Joe Moore, of the New York Giants; Curt Davis and Outfielder Johnny Moore and Ethan Allen, of the Phillies; and Louis Fier, brilliant boy shortstop of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Schumacher will make his bow,

and other American Leaguers who are sure to appear as all-stars and who are sure to be strong at the ballot box include Wesley Ferrell, Hank Greenberg, Jo-White, Hal Tracy, Frank Higgins, Bill Werber, Joe Vosmik, and Roy Johnson.

The western members of the National Leagues are Frank Smith and Mickey Cochran, will command.

There will be the customary

problems such as the one Cronin,

who means the American

Leagues will fail, derive by including Paul's third base.

For instance, there is no place

for either Greenberg or Tracy

with Lou Gehrig still leading the junior wheel in practically everything but pitching effectiveness.

BLUE RIBBONS FOR BLUE RIBBONS AGAIN

Veterans of another basketball war. Blue Ribbons to-day again held the Montreal Sportsmen's Cup, emblematic of Dominion championship. In a hair-raising fixture at the Willows yesterday evening they staved off a frantic last-minute attack by Assumption College of Windsor to take the national series with three wins in four starts. The team, as shown above, is, from left to right—Johnny Craig, Alec McKeachie, George "Porky" Andrews, Joe Ross, Bill Wallis, Doug Peden, Chuck Chapman, captain; Art Chapman, and Albert "Red" Martin.

Drop Back to Third Place in Montreal Six-day Bike Marathon; Piet Van Kempen and Werner Methe Leading Field; Lew Rush Still in Last Position.

Montreal, April 30.—Piet Van Kempen, veteran Dutch pedaler, and his German partner, Werner Methe, clung tenaciously to their two-lap lead to-day as Montreal's twelfth six-day bike race entered its thirty-ninth hour.

The Europeans had repelled Torch Peden, Victoria, B.C., and Henry O'Brien, Los Angeles, as pacemakers. The Pacific Coast riders had slipped back into third place, two laps behind the leaders, after having led the field for the greater part of the time since the start at midnight last Sunday.

Kilian and Vopel were also two laps behind the top team, but had a margin on O'Brien and O'Brien in sprint pace. Walther and Andy, another of the favored combinations, were in fourth place.

Lew Rush, the other Victoria rider in the long ride to nowhere, and his partner Silver, were in last place.

Prince Albert, April 30.—Hugie Gillespie, fullback and mainstay of Prince Albert City Reds, Western Canada soccer champions, died here yesterday. He collapsed following a workout of the eleven Sunday and was unconscious for twenty-six hours preceding his death.

High blood pressure, coupled with over-strenuous activity on the field Sunday resulted in a clot of blood forming in the head and brought him down at the Prince Albert High School.

Gillespie was in excellent spirits during the practice and had been in good health throughout the winter.

Mr. Gillespie leaves a widow and son, and his wife, Mrs. Irene Gillespie, is reported to be in the哀伤.

The service will be conducted directly to the Arches Alloys, where the noted player had performed with Clydebank. The funeral will take place here to-morrow.

Major Ball Players Fined and Suspended Following Riot

Jurges and Bush Ordered To Pay $50 Penalties

Quick Punishment Handed
Pittsburgh and Chicago
Players By Ford Frick

FREE-FOR-ALL IS WITNESSED

Canadian Press

New York, April 30.—Ford C. Frick, president of the National Baseball League, to-day fined and suspended Bill Jurges, Chicago Cubs shortstop, and Guy Bush, Pittsburgh Pirates pitcher, for their part in the fist fight that marked yesterday's Cubs-Pirates game at Chicago.

After reviewing the reports of the umpires, Frick announced that Jurges has been suspended for three days and fined $50.

Bush, a former Cub, traded to the Pirates during the winter, was suspended for five days and fined $50.

Frick did not discipline Roy Joiner, Chicago pitcher, and several other players on both teams who participated in the wildest free-for-all of the season.

The fight started when Harry Lavagetto, Pirate infielder, was spinned by Jurges as he slid into second after hitting a double.

Shorter baseball tempers, coinciding with rising mercury in the thermometers, can be credited with an assist on the major league's first full-grown "riot" of the year.

The wild game of the young season, Chicago Cubs 12 to 11 victory over Pittsburgh Pirates, provided the setting for yesterday's Donnybrook, in which "Mississippi" Guy Bush, a former Cub, played the leading fist-fighting role.

COMES UP FIGHTING

The trouble all started in the fifth inning when Harry Lavagetto, young Pirate infielder, doubled down the right-field line, scoring to tie the run that gave the Cubbies a 6 to 3 lead. As Lavagetto slid into second he got tangled up with Bill Jurges, the Cub's skipper. He happened to slide right into flying.

That brought on a small-scale battle royal. Players from both teams surged across the playing field. In the first foulout was Bush, now wearing a Pirate uniform. After a short verbal exchange with Roy Joiner, Cub pitcher, Bush rushed his man and floored him with a couple of rights. Joiner wound up with a bloody nose and a scratch scratch on the left side of his head.

They started leading Bush away from there when Manager Charley Grimm of the Cubs decided to take a hand, but before any further damage could be done, the umpires and cooler-headed players stepped between the prospective batters and the fight was over. Jurges, Joiner, Lavagetto and Bush all were banished.

All this apparently aroused the Cubs from their lethargy, for in the eighth they sent fourteen men to bat against Waite Hoyt, Johnny Salvoson and Bill Swift, and Boston Braves handing the Phillies their eighth consecutive defeat, 7 to 5.

A three-game American League programme was marked by two shut-outs with Vernon (Lefty) Gomez of New York Yankees, Tommy Bridges (right) and champion Detroit Tigers in the starring roles.

Bridges kept seven hits well spaced as Detroit hammered out an 18 to 2 triumph over St. Louis Browns.

Gomez, returning to the firing line after a siege of grippe held Washington Senators to four hits as the Yankees won 2 to 1.

Philadelphia Athletics eleventh defeat in twelve starts was a 16 to 8 routing by Boston Red Sox in eleven innings.

OLD CLOTHES BADLY NEEDED

Friendly Help Welfare Association Needs Clothes For Unfortunate Families

The executive of the Friendly Help Welfare Association is making an appeal for donations of serviceable used clothing, for which there is at the present time urgent need. Clothing, including linens, the association provided, and secondhand clothing to 922 city families, comprising 2,722 individuals. In eight months nearly $14,000 was spent by the association on new clothing and on renovating used clothing and repairing boots, shoes, etc., and it is estimated that this year between $18,000 and $20,000 will be needed for this purpose. Only by making the fullest use of secondhand clothing can this amount be made to cover all needs.

In almost every home there are to be found old shirts, worn men's shirts or pants that have cut and mended, old sweaters that could be ravished and reknit; old stockings for rug making; old patches for quilts; or boots and shoes that are still capable of giving service.

The association will be grateful for donations of articles of this kind. If possible, parcels should be left at Welfare House, 128 Pandora Avenue, between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. However, it is not possible to deliver parcels, a call to G arden 7194 will send a collector for them.

SONG OF PRAISE SENT TO MAYOR

To-day's mail at the City Hall took on a particularly patriotic color as letters arrived from the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire and the Children of the Empire (Junior Branch) and from David Marion Eton, K.C., of the mayor's office, Lethbridge.

The communication from the I.O.D.E. extended an invitation from the Victoria Municipal Chapter to the City Council to attend the annual Empire Day service to be held on Sunday, April 29, at the Jubilee Hospital on Sumasway, about forty-four years.

Mr. Potts was born in England and came to Victoria in 1886, establishing a tailoring business under the name of The London House, at what is now 1904 Douglas Street. He retired from active business in 1905.

Mr. Potts is survived by four daughters: Mrs. Marguerite Vaneau-

Mrs. George Cooper of this city; Miss Lilian Potts and Mrs. J. Ackroyd, Sea Francisco; three granddaughters and two great granddaughters.

A. P. Rylah will conduct the funeral services and interment will be in the family plot in Ross Bay Cemetery.

ASK PROVINCE ABSORB SUNS

Municipalities Seek Relief From Government Advances
on Superannuation

Absorption by the provincial government of sums for which the government claims municipalities are in arrears in the superannuation fund, was sought by a delegation from the Union of British Columbia Municipalities which met Premier T. D. Pattullo to-day.

The delegation was headed by Mayor David Leeming and included D. A. Macdonald, city controller-treasurer; R. F. Blandy, Oak Bay municipal clerk, and R. R. Jewell, clerk of Saanich and secretary of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities.

Mayor Leeming reported the delegation had been given a sympathetic hearing by the Premier, who declared the municipalities would have to stand over the remains of Hon. G. M. Weir, Provincial Secretary, and Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance.

The sum which the municipalities wish the government to absorb are those which the province claims it has absorbed by the absorption of its specific service.

The amount is estimated at approximately $600,000, of which Victoria's share is calculated at $200,000.

SILVER BOOSTS FOOD PRICES

Products From China Have Risen Over 25 Per Cent in Last Month

The soaring price of silver is having its effect in Victoria, for wholesalers report that food products from China have risen over 25 per cent in the last month, with further advances expected.

Walnut meat, walnut in shell and peanuts, the only Chinese food products received here in anything like large quantities, have taken their sharp rise for a long time.

There has been a great deal of rice sold lately as the Chinese population are anticipating higher prices. Though local wholesalers mostly act as agents in the sale of rice, the report comes from the fact that rice is advancing for our use, and there is still considerable stock in Vancouver.

However, there is a tendency toward a speculative rise in the near future.

MONTH'S SUN NEAR RECORD

Second Sunniest April Since 1891, Weather Man Says;
Rainfall Below Average

The second sunniest April since 1901 passed into history to-day, according to the monthly weather report released this morning by F. Napier Benson, superintendent at the Meteorological Observatory on Grousewood Hill, April 19, 1918, set the record for sunshine.

Up to yesterday evening, Old Sol did his best for Victorians this month to the extent of 266 hours and six minutes, allowing thirteen hours of sunshine to-day. It means 266 hours of sunshine to-day, it means 266 hours of sunshine to-day.

In April, 1918, there were 272 hours and thirty-six minutes of sunshine.

Rainfall this month was below average. The total precipitation was .26 of an inch, which was .22 of an inch below the usual.

The mean temperature for the month was forty degrees, which was just above Mr. Benson's statement.

The highest temperature for the month was sixty-seven degrees on Sunday last; the lowest was thirty-four degrees on April 2, and the minimum on the grass was twenty-five degrees the morning of April 3.

A public lecture will be given this evening at 8 o'clock in the Memorial Hall by Dr. James Gammie on "Charles Dickens and the Friend of the Child."

Capt. W. Goff will give suitable readings from the writings of the great novelist.

Market Irregular As Profits Taken On Wall St. To-day

Associated Press

New York, April 30.—The stock market started incoherently to-day as profit takers, expecting a sensible corrective reaction, went home with some of their gains. A number of specialists were firm throughout, but the metals and rails dipped. The close was irregular. Transfers approximated $60,000 shares.

The trading volume again dropped below the million-share figure, pleasing to bullish prophecies. At the same time more than the usual discrimination was in evidence. A late rally in corn at Chicago made the grains which were soft most of the day. Cotton was rather neutral. Bonds were mixed, as were leading foreign exchanges.

Shares of national steel and Phillips petroleum steadied when their first quarter statements were disclosed. Gains of fractions to a point or so were recorded by Inland Steel, Air Reduction, U.S. Gypsum, John Manville, Allis Chalmers, Anacinda and Standard Oil of New Jersey. A five-point jump was enjoyed by Coca-Cola, U.S. Smelting, lost some three points, and others down around two to four cents. American Smelting, Cerro De Pasco, Silver King, Union Pacific, Pullman, American Telephone, Western Union, Eastman Kodak, American Can, Case, Continental Can, Columbia, U.S. Steel and Du Pont. Among those shown even to a trifles lower were National Distillers, General Motors, Cities Service, Standard Soabut, and Public Service of New Jersey.

As the market closed, the Inland Steel Co. announced a $5 dividend, compared with 25c paid in the three previous quarters.

Among shares of Canadian companies, Dome, Canadian Pacific and International Nickel sold slightly lower. On the curb, Hiram Walker yielded a small fraction, but Lake Shore was a bit higher. Dominion Government Bonds ruled steady. Canadian funds eased 1-16 of a cent to 90-16c.

A two-point advance was shown by Allis Chalmers.

SILVERS GAIN AT TORONTO

Canadian Press

Toronto, April 30.—Mining section of the Toronto Stock Exchange approached the end of the month with a show of confidence to-day. Mining stocks were the best at the close. Silver gains were added in afternoon selling.

Eldorado closed around 2.35. Bear at 47 was off 2. Castle weakened slightly and Nipissing was down a few cents at the close. Penny silver also slipped slightly.

Other miners in the gold group were Lake Shore, Pionier, Wright-Margraves, while Bradley slumped to 7.05, just 10 cents above its flow for the year.

In the secondary gold group moderate recessions came out but nearly the whole list, more than recovered in a late upturn.
